

PRIVACY POLICY

Rad Tuition collects personal information solely for enrolment, communication, and learning purposes. Information is not shared with third parties without consent - unless required by law.

Student work and attendance records are kept confidential.

You have the right to request access to or update your personal information at any time.

